

Instructions for authors

Preparation and submission of manuscripts: Authors can email submissions in electronic form to Sarah Gibbs, Production Editor (sarah.gibbs@geolsoc.org.uk).

Text, tables and figure captions should be submitted as Word files, with figures and plates as either PDFs or low-resolution native files. If your paper is accepted then the final submission will be expected to include the high-resolution native files for figures and plates (e.g. EPS or TIF files).

Any editorial correspondence should be sent to the Journal Editor (see inside front cover). Papers are accepted on the understanding that they have not been published elsewhere and authors (except those in Governmental employment) are required to assign copyright to The Micropalaeontological Society. Referees are appointed to critically assess the papers, and the editor's judgement is final. Correspondence in multi-authored works will be with the first-named author, unless otherwise arranged. PDF proofs will be emailed to the corresponding author, who must read and correct them, returning them to the Production editor. Prompt attention to proofs is essential to avoid delays in publication.

Information for Authors: This documentation is currently under revision. Contributors should follow the style of Vol 32 Part 1.

Offprints: Offprints can be purchased and an order form will be emailed with the proofs. A PDF of your paper will be provided free of charge. The corresponding author will be sent an e-mail advising how to access and download the PDF.

Open Access Publishing: Authors may choose to make their article fully Open Access (sometimes called 'Gold Open Access') on payment of an Article Processing Charge. For Journal of Micropalaeontology, the APC is £1000/$2000. There is a 50% discount for articles where all the authors are at a research institution in a developing country. More information on the Society's policy can be found at: www.geolsoc.org.uk/open-access

If you require Open Access but cannot pay the APC, the Geological Society also supports 'Green Open Access', where you can post your final post-refereed version of the article to a website or repository 12 months after the online publication date. Authors must not post a typeset proof or final version to any website or repository unless the article is fully Open Access.
