

Journal of Micropalaeontology

Volume 2, July 1983

CONTENTS

1.	Calcareous foraminifera from the Ordovician of Baltoscandia R. E. L. Schallreuter	1
2.	New British Pliocene species of the Australian Recent genus Austroparadoxostoma Hartmann, 1979 (Ostracoda) R.C. Whatley & C. Maybury	7
3.	Basal Dinantian miospores from the Cockermouth area, West Cumbria, England M.A. Butterworth & C.E. Butcher	13
4.	Kimmeridge Clay Ostracoda of the North Wootton Borehole, Norfolk, England I.P. Wilkinson	17
5.	The distribution of Recent radiolaria in surficial sediments of the continental margin off northern Namibia S. Robson	31
6.	Ecology and distribution of ostracods in Kuwait Bay S. Al-Abdul Razzaq, W. Shublaq, Z. Al-Sheikh & W. Kittaneh	39
7.	Two dinoflagellate cyst marker horizons in the Bathonian of the Nettleton Bottom Borehole, Lincolnshire, England J.B. Riding	47
8.	Gerdocypris, a new genus of Paracyprididae (Ostracoda) from the North Atlantic, Mediterranean and East Africa K.G. McKenzie	53
9.	Ontogenesis and stratigraphy of the ostracod Veeniacythereis jezzineensis (Bischoff, 1963) A. Rosenfeld & M. Raab	59
10.	Velumousspora, a megaspore genus from the Namurian of northern England E. Spinner	67
11.	Some species of the ostracod genus Bythocythere Sars from British waters J. Athersuch, D. J. Horne & J. E. Whittaker	71
12.	Some aspects of the palaeobiology of Tertiary deep-sea Ostracoda from the S.W. Pacific R. Whatley	83
13.	The shell of the ostracod Halocypris inflata (Dana, 1849) examined by the ion beam etch technique T. Smith & R.H. Bate	105
14.	Observations on surface ornamentation in fossil Ostracoda B. Fitz-Gerald	111