Journal of Micropalaeontology

Volume 6, Part 2, November 1987

CONTENTS

1. New genera and species of cytheracean Ostracoda from the S.W. Atlantic
   R. Whatley, J. Chadwick, D. Coxill & N. Toy 1

2. The evolution of Early Cretaceous Dorothiinae (Foraminiferida)
   D. Desai & F. T. Banner 13

3. Palaeoecology of a hypersaline Carboniferous ostracod fauna
   C. P. Dewey 29

4. Palynological evidence for a diachronous low-salinity event in the C-T boundary clay at Stevns Klint, Denmark
   S. U. Hultberg 35

5. Combined ostracod and planktonic foraminiferal biozonation of the Late Coniacian – Early Maastrichtian of Israel
   A. Honigstein, A. Almogi-Labin & A. Rosenfeld 41

6. The regular occurrence of Reophax scotti Chaster, a benthic foraminiferan in plankton samples from the North Sea
   A. W. G. John 61

7. The Omma-Manganji ostracod fauna (Plio-Pleistocene) of Japan and the zoogeography of circumpolar species
   T. M. Cronin & N. Ikeya 65

8. Durotrigia daveyi gen. et sp. nov., an Early Bajocian dinocyst with a variable precingular archaeopyle
   D. Bailey 89

9. Dinantian conodont biostratigraphy of the Northumberland Trough
   H. A. Armstrong & M. A. Purnell 97

10. The cyst-theca relationship of Protoperidinium americanum (Gran & Braarud) Balech
    J. Lewis & J. D. Dodge 113

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Publication of this edition of the journal has been aided by generous financial support from the following:
Shell UK Limited
BP Research Centre, Sunbury-on-Thames
Gearhart Geoconsultants Limited
Bujak Davies Group, Calgary
Esso Production Research -European, Bordeaux

Cover illustration: some Loculicytherettas, kindly supplied by Dr. Henri Oertli. S.N.E.A.(P), Pau.